

The Horsham Water & Sewer Authority hosted Governor Tom Wolf, State Representative Todd Stephens and other state and local officials yesterday for the announcement of funding that will alleviate the surcharge that was instituted in 2016 in order to achieve Horsham’s “non-detect” standard for PFAS.

The Authority is committed to working with Representative Stephens to assure that the money is made available to our community as soon as possible.

We are deeply grateful for the collaboration among state and local elected officials and their willingness to work with the Authority and obtain these resources that will help to relieve this additional household expense for our rate payers. This outcome is a great example of what can be achieved through teamwork!
